Former Resident Passes

Word has been received of the death on April 23th in Spokane, Wash. of Carl J. Schroeder, a well known former resident of Champion, having formed here and also handled the water for the town. His death came after a short illness of five days following a stroke, and was buried on the 25th in Riverside Park cemetery.

Mr. Schroeder was born in Iowa November 29th, 1881. In 1906 he married Carrie Schrader. Came to Champion in 1918 to reside until he moved to Spokane in 1927 where he has since resided and was engaged in a retail grocery business up to his death.

He leaves in deepest sorrow his widow, Mrs. Carrie Schroeder, four daughters, Mrs. C. A. Schultz, Mrs. R. H. Cunningham, Miss Esther Schroeder and Fay Schroeder, and two sons, Marvin E. and Myron A. all of Spokane. He also leaves two grandchildren.

The sympathy of Champion district goes out to Mrs. Schroeder and family in their recent sad bereavement.

Mother's Day Service

Mother's Day was observed in the Champion churches morning and evening, Sunday, May 10th. Rev. Dawson conducted the service in the United church and preached from Proverbs 31, "The Virtuous Woman." He referred to the unhappiness suffered by the brilliant poet Byron, by an unsympathetic mother, and in contrast to this the wonderful tribute of J. M. Barrie to his mother "Margaret Ogilvy," which is recognized as one of the greatest eulogies in the English language. The responsibilities of motherhood were also dwelt upon, and also the duties of children to their mothers. A beautiful bouquet of red tulips and houseplants decorated the table and the presence of the Sunday school, and special music, all contributed to the enjoyment of the service.

Fifty years ago the first trans-continental Canadian Pacific Railway train from Montreal reached the Pacific Coast. This summer Vancouver, now the Gateway to the Orient and port for ships of the entire world will celebrate the Golden Jubilee of its founding as the western terminal of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Commencing July 1 with Dominion and International Good Will Week, the programme concludes with the Canada Pacific Exhibition on September 7, and includes land and water, and several weeks of grand pageantry, musical attractions, visit of American warships, a two-day air show with a solo flight across Canada planned as the highlight, floral decorations, visit of 15,000 Shriners in mid-July, traditional centenary of an Alderhot tallow, frontier week, street dancing and costume balls, and historical exhibits arranged to illustrate Vancouver's steady progress during the first half century of its existence.

Even before the beginning of the celebration proper, many colorful events will give recognition, including Empire Day and horticulture show in May; Pioneer festival on June 12-13; school programme in June; Eucharistic Congress, which will attract thousands June 11 to 14; golf tournament, King's birthday, and religious dedicatory services.

One of the highlights of Vancouver's celebration will be the re-naming of the arrival of the first Canadian Pacific train almost half a century ago. The venerable old engine, first to the coast, will be run 7 miles with its original pilot, W. H. Evans, at the throttle. Some of the addressees who saw the first train arrive will also be present for the ceremony. The Canadian Pacific Railway will run tours at low cost from Eastern Canada to the Pacific Coast for the event, with stop-over privileges at Banff Springs Hotel, Canoe Lake Lodge, and other famous Rocky Mountain resorts.

Pictures show the old and the new Vancouver, and Sir William Van Horne, second president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who chose the name of Vancouver in 1864 for the western terminal of the first trans-continental railway line.

Facing a Big Deficit

The discovery that the operations of the Federal government for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1936, resulted in a deficit of approximately $162,000,000, as announced by Hon. Chas. A. Dunning in the recent budget speech in the House of Commons, has come as a considerable shock to a large percentage of the Canadian people who must pay the piper.

The shock is not assuaged at all by the additional announcement that the increase in the sales tax from six to eight per cent, which the government decided to levy, will not be a heavy enough impact to enable the government to balance the budget for the current fiscal year and that, on the other hand, the best that can be expected from this and other minor levies is a deficit of something less than $100,000,000 for this year.

Not much is to be gained by any attempt to lay the blame for this enormous deficit at the door of any particular administration. Doubtless politicians within the fold of the two major political parties will rise up and assert that the other party is at fault, in the one case the former regime and in the other the present administration, while adherents of other parties, who have not yet been given an opportunity to demonstrate their ability to govern the country, will declare that the economic system is to be blamed.

The fact remains that there is a shortage of $162,000,000 as the difference between governmental income and outgo which has to be made up by approximately 10,000,000 people and the same number of people are apparently likely to have to make up another $100,000,000 or a little less next year. The money must come out of the pockets of these ten million Canadians and apparently the only way to get it is by increasing taxation in some form or another.

The government has decided that the loss is to be made up partially by an additional levy of two per cent. in the form of sales tax, which means by the extraction of another two cents on every dollar spent by the consumers on practically everything manufactured and produced in Canada. Hon. Mr. Dunning stated that by this means the government is placing the burden on "rich and poor alike." Whether it will work out that way in actual practice, it is almost impossible to say at this stage, whatever the intention may be.

It is axiomatic that in the final analysis the consumer must and does foot the country's tax bill, and it is a matter of history that sometimes business not only collects the tax from the consumer but a little bit more by adding a small profit on the tax as well as on the cost of the goods and the cost of their distribution. In this way a tax sometimes becomes pyramided by the time the goods on which they are levied reach the consumer.

The present system of collection makes this kind of thing possible and it is to be hoped that the government will take such measures as are necessary to see that the consumer is not forced to pay an additional tribute to retailers, jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers, or any of them as a result of the increase in the sales tax.

For any government of course, a sales tax or an increase in sales tax, is one of the easiest ways of securing revenue from its subjects. Within a couple of months people will have forgotten about the budget and that they are paying another per cent. toward governmental administration on practically everything they buy because it is a hidden impost.

In this connection there would seem to be some merit in the sales tax system in vogue in the State of Oklahoma where the tax is collected by the retailer and where the government will leave such matters as are necessary to see that the consumer is not forced to pay an additional tribute to retailers, jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers, or any of them as a result of the increase in the sales tax.

This system, while unquestionably irksome and cumbersome to the retailer, at least has the advantage of making the consumer "tax conscious" in the same way as has a direct income tax. Every time he makes a purchase from a nickel upward he is made to realize that he is making a contribution to the government and the amount he is contributing. If this system were in effect throughout Canada, no doubt it would result in greater pressure being brought to bear on the government to economize and might act as a deterrent in the number of requests made to the government for expenditures which would increase the deficit.

There are, on the other hand, some very potent arguments against the adoption of such a system of tax levy and collection. It would often result, no doubt, in efforts on the part of consumers to induce the retailers to absorb the tax and where competition is keen might result in injustice to the merchants. In addition to which, the time that this method of billing and collection would require, would no doubt, entail extra cost to the merchant which, under present conditions, he could ill afford.

Children In England Learning Problems Of Britain

"Great Britain is the only country which trains its children in modern transportation," says T. R. Dexter, of the Association of Railwaymen, in discussing a nation-wide educational program for children recently started.

Not satisfied with mere rapid mechanical development, the heads of British railways have realized that, in the long run, the position of their roads depends directly upon public understanding of rail transport problems. Realizing that transport is for the ages and not merely for the adults of today, they have begun to teach the children the fundamental facts of railroading, and are conducting a series of nation-wide demonstrations for school children. Over 40,000 children have attended these. Instruction in every branch of railroading, from locomotive driving to signal systems, is given to children by competent instructors, on special demonstration cars which are routed throughout the country.

"The eventual result, it is believed, will be a sympathetic understanding by the whole people of the Empire's railroad problems."

Building In England To Have 7,500 Feet Of Gardens

A temple to the sun with 7,500 square feet of hanging gardens is rising in England in the midst of one of South Hachkes's most populous cities.

It is an experiment by the Bethel Green and East London Housing Association in which housing experts, builders and architects have worked together to evolve the "sun and air home" of the future.

It was faced with the problem of making the flats as much like houses as possible, said the architect, J. E. M. Macgregor, "and so we provided each flat with its own private garden on the same level."

The first section of the "sun temple," containing 16 flats, each with a minimum of 200 square feet of hanging garden open to the sky will be completed in the near future.

Even on a dark day the building, with its yellow brick walls and red tile roof, suggests sunshine.

To make the gardens possible a part of the plan of the pyramid shape was devised, the flats being built in receding steps around a covered hall. This hall will be let to a market.

It is one of the first buildings in the world to be built on the cantilever system.

Received An Answer

"Good gracious!" shouted the schoolmaster. "I ask you the simple question, 'what is a fortification?' and get no answer!"

The scholars started, but no one answered. The master tried again. Pointing to the boy at the bottom of the class, he demanded—"Tell me, what is a fortification?"

"Two twentification, six," came the answer.

Reduction In Insurance Rates

Hudson Bay Route Season Has Also Been Extended

Marine insurance rates on the Hudson Bay route have been reduced for the coming year and the season extended eight days. Railway Minister Howe announced in the House of Commons.

The season this year will last from Aug. 5 to Oct. 10 before surcharges are added to marine insurance. The season last year was from Aug. 10 to Oct. 7.

The earlier date of opening is qualified by the provision that no ship must pass Cape Chidley, inbound to Churchill, until the government ice breaker, the N. B. McLean, gives the word. Cape Chidley is the eastern end of the strait.

The reduction in insurance rates applies only to hulls and machinery and does not apply to cargo. It is a premium charged by marine underwriters over and above the year round insurance carried by vessels. The year round rate covers them against accident on all trade routes of the world except a selected few. Before a vessel may enter these special trade routes, a premium has to be paid. The Hudson Bay route is one of these routes and the premium to be paid has now been reduced to 25 per cent.

The reduction of insurance rates amounts to 25 per cent. A vessel of 5,000 tons, valued at $250,000 equipped with Gyro compass, will pay $250 per round trip. The same boat in 1933 paid $1,500; 1934, $1,250; 1935, 1937, if not equipped with Gyro compass, the boat would have paid $1,750 in 1933; $1,500 in 1934; $1,125 in 1935 and $450 in 1936.

Reductions resulted from representations to the Imperial Shipping Commission in London.

Sound Financial Policies

Secret Of Britain's Success Opinion

Of former High Commissioner
Sound financial policies adopted three years ago are responsible for Great Britain's "muddling through" recent trade crises to world leadership in the opinion of the Hon. Mr. Ferguson, recent Canadian High Commissioner to London and former Premier of Ontario.

Mr. Ferguson, who arrived at San Francisco on the last lap of a world cruise which took him to all parts of the British Empire, declared the activity of the Mother Country was reflected in all parts of the Empire.

"There are no other countries in the world where business is as good. Great Britain leads, and Canada and South Africa run her a close second," he said.

One of the reasons for farm failures in Canada, Mr. Ferguson believes, was the cultivation of too much ground. His 35-acre farm near Ottawa had paid him a net profit of $1,000 per year for the past 20 years.

A Knight Of St. George

Duke Of Kent Is Now Member Of The Order

Although St. George's Day received no general commemoration in London, special significance attached to the annual service of the Order of St. Michael and St. George held at St. Paul's Cathedral.

The Duke of Kent, appointed a Knight of the Grand Cross last year, were for the first time the rich mantle of Saxen blue with the elaborate collar and chain over his naval uniform. The procession to the high altar consisted of other high officers as richly apparelled.

In the chapel of the order, which is part of the cathedral, the Duke of Kent's banner was ceremonially hung, and the banners of those knights who had died during the year were taken down.

Must Lower Trade Barriers

Revival Of World Trade Necessary To Halt Economic Distress

Declaring there is a "rising danger" of a catastrophic world war, U.S. Secretary Hull at Washington, attacked what he termed the "supreme folly" of "excessive" trade barriers.

A revival of world trade through a lowering of such barriers is necessary to halt the "virulent disease" of economic distress, said the secretary of state. Hull declared in a speech prepared for delivery to the closing session of the chamber of commerce of the United States. "Only as the world's economic health is restored will individuals and nations develop again adequate resistance to the psychological madness that makes possible internal and external strife," the secretary of state said.

Describing the new reciprocal trade policy, Hull said that if it were scrapped, the United States would take a "fatal" step backward.

Weather Expert Retires

F. Napier Denison Relinquishes Post At Victoria

F. Napier Denison, who studied the earth's phenomena from Gonzales Hill observatory for 48 years, has retired from his post as superintendent of the Dominion government meteorological bureau at Victoria.

As he left his office in the dome-shaped Gonzales observatory, relinquishing his position of close to half a century to W. A. Thorn of Toronto, Mr. Denison said he was not through with scientific research. During the years he has been in the government meteorological service, Mr. Denison has been interested chiefly in tracing the world's earthquakes. He is known well across the Dominion and on the Pacific coast as an expert weather observer.

Another Great Ship Scrapped

French Liner Once As Famous As New Queen Mary

Less than 24 hours after the Queen Mary had made her triumphant passage down the Clyde another great ship was dragged ignominiously up the channel, stern first, to end her days in the shipbreakers' yard. She was the 42,000-ton liner l'Atlantique which was once to the French just what the Queen Mary is to the British people to-day, and which was burned in the English Channel several years ago. Over 100 men will be engaged for a year on breaking her up.

Brothers Lived In Room Like Hermit For 62 Years

Death has separated two brothers, whose hermit-like existence in the hills in New York State had been divided by a chalk-line for 62 years. George Washington Coleman, 78, said he would "carry on" in the little cabin of Bakers Gulch, where James Coleman, 81, died of pneumonia.

For more than half a century the two brothers had lived in the little cabin as veritable strangers, a chalk line through the centre of their one-room marking the boundary of their individual domains.

Honoring Mrs. C. Sutton

The home of Mrs. F. Gottenberg was the scene of a delightfully arranged party on Wednesday afternoon when members of the O. O. R. P. entertained, honoring Mrs. C. Sutton, who was celebrating her 67th birthday. Over twenty ladies were present and after a social afternoon little Jordan Carlson colored the room with a wagon laden with gifts. The guest of honor was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts including life membership in the lodge and a decorated birthday cake, the gift of Mrs. Gottenberg. Mrs. Sutton thanked the donors in a very charming manner. A novel feature of the afternoon was the presiding, by the Honored Royal Lady, Lady Siler, of a paring knife, to Lady Glover, who had lost her knife at the O. O. R. P. birthday party and was taking the matter rather seriously. Lady Glover was very much overcome. After a dainty lunch the ladies dispersed after wishing Mrs. Sutton many happy returns of the day.
